Details of professional track record

01/01/2020 - present. Inversiones Assure S.A.

I returned as CEO of the company to continue driving its growth and expansion.

07/07/2018 - 10/30/2019. Neogen Fund, Advisor, Transmission and Power Generation

Through equity and similar instruments, including shareholdings, equity interests, options, warrants and convertible loans, the Fund invests in various projects. The Fund manages USD 10 billion in private equity. In the Mining-Energy sector, it invests in gas pipelines and related infrastructure, and in electric transmission networks, including grid edge solutions. I was part of the due diligence team for the pipeline between Siberia in Russia and Northern China through Mongolia. This pipeline will transport gas from the Chayandínskoye and Kovyorka fields to Heilongjiang on Russia's border, to finally deliver gas to Jilin and Liaoning in China. Once it reaches full capacity, the gas pipeline will transport thirty-eight (38) billion m³ of gas per year in 2025.

05/01/2017 - 9/30/2019. International Venture Partners, Advisor, Power and Gas

IVP Global is an investment bank with global presence in Europe, South America, Central Asia and China, which focuses on advising, investing and structuring investment banking. The main business focus on IVP Global is in the Energy, Infrastructure and Biotechnology industries. IVP Global provides industry analysis, competition studies, and advisory for clients' international growth, delivering strategies and solutions.

I was part of the team that advised China State Grid in the acquisition of 49% of the electricity holding company of Oman (Nama Holding). We also advised the Chinese company TBEA in developing wind and photovoltaic renewable energy projects, aimed at participating in the Renovar program promoted by the Government of Argentina, whose objective is to generate twenty percent (20%) of its total electricity from these sources by 2025.

1/1/2013 - 04/30/2017. Inversiones Assure S.A., CEO

When I decided to leave Grupo Medplus to take a new path towards independence, I created this company to structure projects, also offering investment banking services. My vast experience in project assessment and extensive network of contacts build over the years enabled me to quickly develop a portfolio of international clients and a substantial number of projects in different industries. During these years, we have helped consolidate projects in infrastructure, electricity generation, railroads, drinking and waste water systems in Colombia, Panama, Ecuador and Peru.

We have also participated in concessions and mergers and acquisitions.

06/01/2012 - 12/30/2013. Medplus Holding Group, CEO

I promoted the creation of the holding company and was its first CEO and focused not only on regulatory compliance, but also on establishing its corporate governance. It was a highly rewarding experience, because an instrument of this type was not available at the time, and it has plainly demonstrated its effectiveness. Through the holding company, we coordinated the activities of all the companies, including those involved in health care, such as prepaid medicine, Level III and IV hospitals, clinics specializing in sleeping disorders and beauty, a pharmaceuticals factory, construction companies, ambulance operators, a network of pharmacies, a network of opticians, and a human resources company, among others. With all these, we held periodic board meetings, which I chaired, as well as weekly planning and assessment committees. The Group's consolidated assets amounted to over USD 300 million.

01/01/2012 - 12/30/2013. Medplus Medicina Prepagada S.A., Chief Executive and Corporate Officer

By changing the company's name and including new acquisitions carried out under my administration, such as Althea Farmacéutica and level-IV Clínica Medplus, the organization's size grew exponentially. Given its high level of complexity, I proposed the creation of a business group and the implementation of corporate governance.

Curriculum Vitae

We established personnel assessment programs, and measurement systems in different company areas and in group companies. We established periodic meetings of the CEOs and managers of the different companies.

The organization already had over 10,000 employees.

01/01/2012 - 12/30/2013. Althea Farmacéutica S.A., CEO

As acting CEO of the group, I structured, negotiated and started up the business. The negotiations were carried out with Merck Group from Germany. It should be mentioned that this deal was made at the peak of the crisis in the health system. The transaction was to be carried out by means of a pre-approved loan from Banco Davivienda, which was later revoked due to the crisis. A substantial amount of work and skill was required to obtain new funding in order to pay the price agreed upon with the Germans. In the end, the deal was successfully completed, and as first CEO of the company, I was in charge of the hand-over and start-up. The company exports to over 20 countries and is certified in over 10 countries. It fulfills the best manufacturing practices (BMP). We set the foundations to evolve from third-party manufacturing to commercializing its own products.

05/02/2011 - 12/30/2013. Medplus Medicina Prepagada S.A., Chief Executive Officer

I joined the group as Chief Executive Officer of the company, which is the third largest in its industry. We decided upon and implemented a change in the company's name. The operation of this company is very similar to an insurance company, with the only difference that it provides services directly, either through its own network or through third parties. We implemented a prevention model that had a favorable effect on medical costs and on cash flow. Despite the crisis in the industry at the time, we successfully held our ground and fulfilled the goals established by our shareholders, and continued to provide efficient and high-quality services to our users.

Through the office of the CEO, we coordinated all the affiliates and we were accountable to shareholders for their performance. These companies were Green City Inversiones y Construcciones, Constructora Arpreco, Clínica VIP, Clínica del Sueño Somnomedica, Clínica de Holística Viuté, Familifarmacias, Familiópticas, Ambulancias AMD 24, Medisalud Panamá, the Metro Panamá optician network and Clínica la Cresta Panamá.

08/01/2010 - 04/30/2011. Grupo RV Inmobiliaria S.A., CEO

RV Inmobiliaria is the largest real estate group in Colombia, with over 30 company-owned branches, a collateral security company and a construction company.

During my term as CEO, I continued to consolidate its strategic plan of growing in the market and opening new branch offices. We expanded operations to the United States of America by creating a branch in Miami and engaging in residential housing construction projects in Florida.

In Colombia, I opened the first branch office outside of Bogotá, aimed at increasing national coverage.

01/01/2007 - 07/30/2010. PDC Vinos y Licores, Advisor to the CEO

During the time I worked for Grupo PDC, the owners of Pedro Domecq y Cia and controllers of Viña Undurraga in Chile and of several investments and companies, both in Europe and America, I managed relations with the high-level government, territorial agencies and Congress, and established strategies to consolidate the markets for the products.

01/17/2003 - 12/31/2006. Freeway Global Services, CEO

The company was created to take advantage of an opportunity in the telecommunications market, with the arrival of low-cost and highly-efficient Chinese technologies. The company ventured into the voice and data markets, developing expansion projects jointly with the carriers. My work consisted in creating the company, developing its organization chart, hiring its management, defining the product lines and establishing the commercial strategy.

01/01/2002 - 10/28/2002. Campaign to the Senate

I was an independent candidate to the Senate of the Republic, based on opinion votes, obtaining the highest vote an outsider had ever achieved in the department of Antioquia, with a total of almost 24,000 votes.

01/03/2001 - 12/31/2002. Office of the Governor of Cundinamarca, Macro-project Coordinator

My office was responsible for the department's macro-projects, which involved ongoing relations with multilateral banks, cooperation agencies and private funds. We assessed all types of alternatives for financing the projects. We reviewed the business plans, financial forecasts and their feasibility. We also coordinated activities with the different departmental offices in order to create synergies between the various projects. I was commissioned by the Governor to lead the strategy to salvage the department's EPS Convida, which had been intervened, and which we returned to profitability.

We actively participated in the preparation of the development plan.

08/01/1998 - 03/31/1999. Bavaria S. A., Director of Sports Promotion

As sports promotion director, my responsibility was to develop the entire marketing strategy to drive product sales. To this effect, we carried out all types of sports activities, ranging from recreational to competitive sports throughout the Colombian territory. We managed the sports investment budget and defined all the events to be carried out nationwide. Some of the best-known events we organized included the Club Colombia Open and Pony Fútbol, among many others. In practice, we held about one event per day, which we coordinated through the different federations.

As part of the organization's senior management, I participated in different meetings aimed at fulfilling the corporate vision of the entire Santo Domingo Group.

Curriculum Vitae

I was responsible for relations with the Football Federation, Dimayor, Difutbol and Colombia's national football team.

09/01/1998 - 09/31/1999 Corporación Futuros Campeones, General Manager

As General Manager of this company, I was responsible for the organization's sports schools and the development of talents in the various sports disciplines.

08/01/1996 - 08/09/1999 Coldeportes Nacional, National Director

As Director of the Institute, I established a team of employees that enabled fulfillment of all types of accomplishments, based on which I was rated by a group of independent judges as the best civil servant in 1998.

We worked in all fields of sport, and particularly in the context of violence that was undermining the country at the time. In the recreational area, we strengthened inter-school sports to an unprecedented level; we implemented University tournaments and carried out over 100 events, each lasting several days, in remote regions through two instruments: community games and indigenous games. Through these events, we traveled to all the indigenous reservations and witnessed first-hand the abandonment and violence experienced by these regions.

In terms of infrastructure, we built, with the support of Invias, over 1,000 multi-sport courts, high-performance sport centers in different regions of Colombia, the High-Performance sports center of Bogotá, the doping control laboratory, which was certified before the Olympics Committee, the Biomedical Services Center, synthetic running tracks in different regions of Colombia and the athletics stadium of Quibdó. Jointly with the Office of the Mayor of Bogotá, we remodeled the sports facilities at El Salitre.

The High-Performance Center and the network of mid-performance centers throughout the country were designed and built during my term in office. The Institute's support for all the federations was strengthened, particularly for the Skating Federation and all sports as a whole. We created the Coldeportes athletes and talent program, through which assistance was provided to over 600 athletes to cover all their training needs, including prepaid medicine from Colsanitas. We created the Coldeportes coach program, through which these athletes' coaches were paid. We established a grants program to enable Colombian coaches to study abroad. We created the Altus elite program, which has been instrumental in winning medals in world tournaments and the Olympics.

We created a territorial arrangement for the sector, transferring to regions responsibilities and sports venues.

In terms of incentives, we created pension programs of four monthly minimum wages for world champions and Olympic medal winners once they turned 50 years old; we created the success award for world and Olympic champions, which they currently receive from Coldeportes each time they win a medal, and we created economic incentives for University games. We provided pensions to old glories of sport and established a plan of economic incentives for those who notwithstanding their greatness did not win a medal, for people such as Bernardo Caraballo, Pambelé and many others, who received economic recognition from the State.

Curriculum Vitae

The entity had over 6,000 employees in 24 sectional offices.

08/09/1994 - 08/31/1998. Presidency of the Republic, Secretary of the Council of Ministers

As Secretary of the Council of Ministers, in addition to ongoing duties such as contracting, ratifying loans, monitoring the legislative agenda, validating the national budget, carrying the minutes and its secrets for 40 years, I created the Unit to Follow up on Public Investment, consisting in regional and sectoral committees that met periodically, every three and four months, respectively.

The Regional Follow-up committees were comprised by the Governor of the Department, the mayor of its capital, the executive director of the local chamber of commerce, a representative of the National Planning Department, a representative of the respective Regional council of economic and social planning (Corpes, for the Spanish original), and the Secretary of the Council of Ministers or their delegate.

The establishment of all this structure required initially the issuance of Decree 2557/1994, followed by several presidential decrees and directives, which enabled maintaining permanent monitoring of public investment, unblocking any bottlenecks in an expedite and effective manner, and identifying and acting quickly on any reports of corruption. Thanks to all this work, for the first time, the National Federation of Governors meeting, in full, issued an award for a national official.

The most important part of this process was to get National Planning officials to step up from their desks in Bogotá and become involved with the regions of Colombia. Through this leadership, we achieved, for the first time in Colombian history, a national budget built through consensus with the regions. Through these bodies, we established priorities from the regions towards the center. We defined the projects to be included and managed to get the regional bodies to participate in the last round of defining the budget, performed by the functional spending committees at the National Planning Department.

I was delegated by the General Secretary of the Presidency to perform many of its duties, which made my office a well-known liaison to address many of the issues of the time, such as the bankruptcy of Paz del Río, which we managed to salvage, among many other matters.

07/01/1993 - 10/28/1994. Presidential campaign, Events and Tour Coordinator

As events and tour coordinator, I traveled throughout the country from end to end, performing during a full year all types of events, which involved planning, coordinating and summoning support. It involved substantial relationship-building and human relations skills, in order to reach a consensus among very dissimilar persons.

06/01/1992 - 07/30/1993. Office of the Mayor of Bogotá, Private Secretary

During the mayor's campaign, I was a member of the economic team, along with Antonio José Urdinola, Mario Suárez Meló, Hernando Gomez Buendía and Rodrigo Manrique. Subsequently, I was appointed by Jaime Castro as coordinator for the hand-over. During my time in office, I was able to create a coordination body for the administration's strategic sectors. We acted as a liaison with all departments, unblocking bottlenecks, and participated in representation of the Mayor in several boards of directors. My office acted as an active member of the council of the cabinet.

My office actually acted as chief of cabinet, coordinating the other offices and entities of the district, maintaining control over the Administration's crucial projects.

Two success stories I recall from my management include the peaceful resolution of an invasion of the Luis Alberto Vega neighborhood, above the Circunvalar highway, which had already produced numerous deaths. A similar case was the invasion of the railroad tracks near the exit towards the Eastern Plains.

The Mayor commissioned me, as leader of the inter-institutional committee for infrastructure works, to take care of all the devastation produced by the bombs planted by Pablo Escobar. We not only coordinated the collection of all the rubble and the recovery works involved, but also forensic medicine, firefighters, police, army and national defense. Because I was the chair of the surveillance fund and the emergency assistance fund, I was responsible for the coordination and immediate reaction to the demented attacks of Pablo Escobar against the city. I was personally responsible for the cross-disciplinary team of all the City Departments, including immediate response by the Health and Forensic Medicine departments, coordination of the necessary repairs, rubble removal, and paving of roads. The last attack I had to address was the bomb at Centro 93.

I was deputized by the Mayor while the designated incumbent took office.

06/01/1992 - 07/30/1993. United Nations Program for Human Settlements, Director

As director of this program, I coordinated all the teams of experts that provided support to the Office of the Mayor on different matters, and was responsible for a program to improve housing in the Ciudad Bolívar neighborhood, and we provided support to the City in urban renewal projects.

06/01/1991 - 07/30/1993. United Nations Program for the Prevention of Drug Addiction, Director

As Director of this program, we managed all policies for the prevention of drug addiction in the city. We had a large staff distributed throughout Bogotá to coordinate with the various city departments all the policies and activities that were implemented.

01/01/1991 - 05/10/1991. Presidency of the Republic, National Plan for Rehabilitation, Planning Director

My involvement with this program was short, but it had a profound impact on my professional career. We managed social investments in the 400 most violent municipalities of Colombia. I had the opportunity to participate in the aftermath of the peace processes with M - 19, Quintín Lame, EPL and PRT.

Curriculum Vitae

05/01/1988 - 07/30/1990. Leasing Assure S.A., General Manager

Financial lease company. It grew quickly and we managed to place resources in various industries, with minimum contingencies in the contracts over the years.

05/01/1988 - 07/30/1990. Factoring Assert S.A., General Manager

A receivables portfolio purchasing company, especially for the food products and transportation industries. We started up a strategic plan based on the secondary market of bankers' acceptances, which are securities that guaranteed commercial transactions. This banner product enabled the company's quick growth in the market.

05/01/1988 - 07/30/1990. Asesores Económicos Stir S.A., General Manager

The company was a trading desk that purchased and sold securities in the secondary market. In its transactions, it worked closely with securities exchange brokers, and we were an instrument to support such institutions.

05/01/1988 - 07/30/1990. Inversiones IMP, General Manager

The company was involved in the assessment of projects for third parties; we carried out feasibility studies to determine the projects' viability. We carried out crowd funding. We structured deals and arranged financing.

05/21/1987 - 04/08/1988. Palmas Oleaginosas Bucarelia, Assistant to the CEO
